

BIODATA

Dr. Francisco Miguel Ivorra Pérez is currently a lecturer in English Language and Linguistics at the University of Valencia (Spain). He holds a Ph.D. in English Studies, and his thesis dealt with the influence of cultural values on English and Spanish business websites. His main areas of research are discourse analysis, intercultural communication and English and Spanish for academic and professional purposes. He has published articles in international journals like Atlantis, Journal of Intercultural Communication, Clina, Miscelanea Journal of English and American Studies as well as book chapters in different books such as A Multidisciplinary Approach to Service Encounters: Brill or Multiple Voices in Academic and Professional Discourse: Cambridge Scholars Publishing. He also the author of the book entitled La Comunicación intercultural y el discurso de los negocios, edited by the University of Alicante (Spain).

Dr. Francisco Miguel Ivorra is also a member of the Interuniversity Institute of Applied Modern Languages (IULMA) at the University of Valencia (Spain) and Head of the research group “SILVA” (Group of Support for Investigation in Language Variation Analysis).